

Behaviours for Learning - Humanities

		Courage The way in which pupils embrace and react to ideas and opportunities new concepts or ideas	Perseverance The degree to which pupils show grit and determination towards their learning activities	Respect The degree to which pupils allow and encourage themselves and others to learn
Exceptional	4	Consistently willing to self-reflect, in addition to feedback from my teachers, on how to improve Consistently displays resilience when faced with challenging enquiry questions in order to reach a conclusion Consistently provides positive input in class, being willing to contribute to class discussion and debate, whilst respecting the views of others	Consistently persists with homework and classwork, always seeking out ways to make improvements Consistently seeks to extend their learning inside of the classroom, for example through extension tasks and activities designed to stretch your thinking Consistently seeks to extend their learning outside of the classroom, for example through extended reading or cultural visits	Consistently supports the learning of others Consistently meets classwork and homework deadlines, present work to a high standard and always be punctual to lessons Consistently arrives to class fully prepared for lessons with all necessary equipment and a positive attitude towards your learning Consistently listens attentively to the teacher and follows advice immediately
Strong	3	Often willing to self-reflect, in addition to feedback from my teachers, on how to improve Often displays resilience when faced with challenging enquiry questions in order to reach a conclusion Often provides positive input in class, being willing to contribute to class discussion and debate, whilst respecting the views of others	Often persists with homework and classwork, always seeking out ways to make improvements Often seeks to extend their learning inside of the classroom, for example through extension tasks and activities designed to stretch your thinking Often seeks to extend their learning outside of the classroom, for example through extended reading or cultural visits	Often supports the learning of others Often meets classwork and homework deadlines, present work to a high standard and always be punctual to lessons Often arrives to class fully prepared for lessons with all necessary equipment and a positive attitude towards your learning Often listens attentively to the teacher and follows advice immediately
Progressing	2	Sometimes willing to self-reflect, in addition to feedback from my teachers, on how to improve Sometimes displays resilience when faced with challenging enquiry questions in order to reach a conclusion Sometimes provides positive input in class, being willing to contribute to class discussion and debate, whilst respecting the views of others	Sometimes persists with homework and classwork, always seeking out ways to make improvements Sometimes seeks to extend their learning inside of the classroom, for example through extension tasks and activities designed to stretch your thinking Sometimes seeks to extend their learning outside of the classroom, for example through extended reading or cultural visits	Sometimes supports the learning of others Sometimes meets classwork and homework deadlines, present work to a high standard and always be punctual to lessons Sometimes arrives to class fully prepared for lessons with all necessary equipment and a positive attitude towards your learning Sometimes listens attentively to the teacher and follows advice immediately
Concern	1	Is rarely willing to self-reflect, in addition to feedback from my teachers, on how to improve Rarely displays resilience when faced with challenging enquiry questions in order to reach a conclusion Rarely provides positive input in class, being willing to contribute to class discussion and debate, whilst respecting the views of others	Rarely persists with homework and classwork, always seeking out ways to make improvements Rarely seeks to extend their learning inside of the classroom, for example through extension tasks and activities designed to stretch your thinking Rarely seeks to extend their learning outside of the classroom, for example through extended reading or cultural visits.	Rarely supports the learning of others Rarely meets classwork and homework deadlines, present work to a high standard and always be punctual to lessons Rarely arrives to class fully prepared for lessons with all necessary equipment and a positive attitude towards your learning Rarely listens attentively to the teacher and follows advice immediately